

Jo Saxe Levy
Short Bio for LRCC At-Large Position
June 8, 2007

I am currently Senior Litigation Counsel for Intel Corporation, where I manage a variety of lawsuits, such as patent, antitrust, and class actions. After 18 years in the Bay Area, I moved to Portland, Oregon in 2005. Before joining Intel in 2003, I was a litigation partner at Crosby Heafey Roach & May (& briefly, Reed Smith) in the Bay Area. Before that, I was an associate at Coddington Hicks & Danforth and Heller Ehrman. I am a graduate of Harvard Law School and Brandeis University.

I believe I would be a great addition to the LRCC because I am the kind of person that gets things done. I have the time and energy to devote to making these conferences the best ever. I am organized, motivated, and creative. I have enjoyed working with the lawyer representatives from the Northern District of California, and the challenge of finding interesting topics and speakers for our conferences. In addition, because I am a Lawyer Representative from the Northern District of California but now live in the District of Oregon, I have the unique perspective of both districts.

On a personal note, I am a private pilot and the mother of a 5 month old boy, 3 and 4 year old girls, and a 12 year old stepson.

Sincerely,
Jo Levy
